

FUNNY PICTURES THAT I'VE TAKEN
THAT I THOUGHT YOU MIGHT ENJOY

What more could you ask for? All the basics are covered... groceries, tanning, and the all important bait & tackle.

Found this in a dollar store, and couldn't resist buying it. Do I need these? No. But I had to buy them!

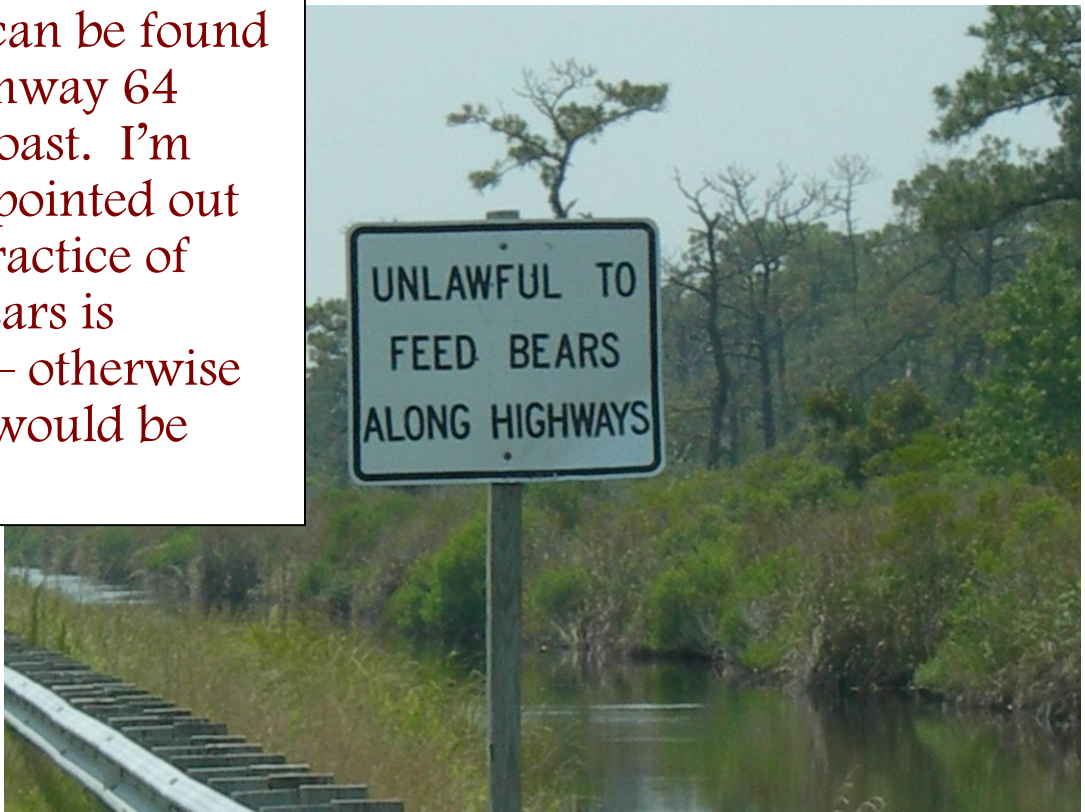

You have to look at this one carefully. I'm sure that you notice that it is a Carvel ice cream cake. Check out the label on the lower right. It explains the reason why it was on sale.

The label reads "Oops Overbaked".

It's an ice cream cake.

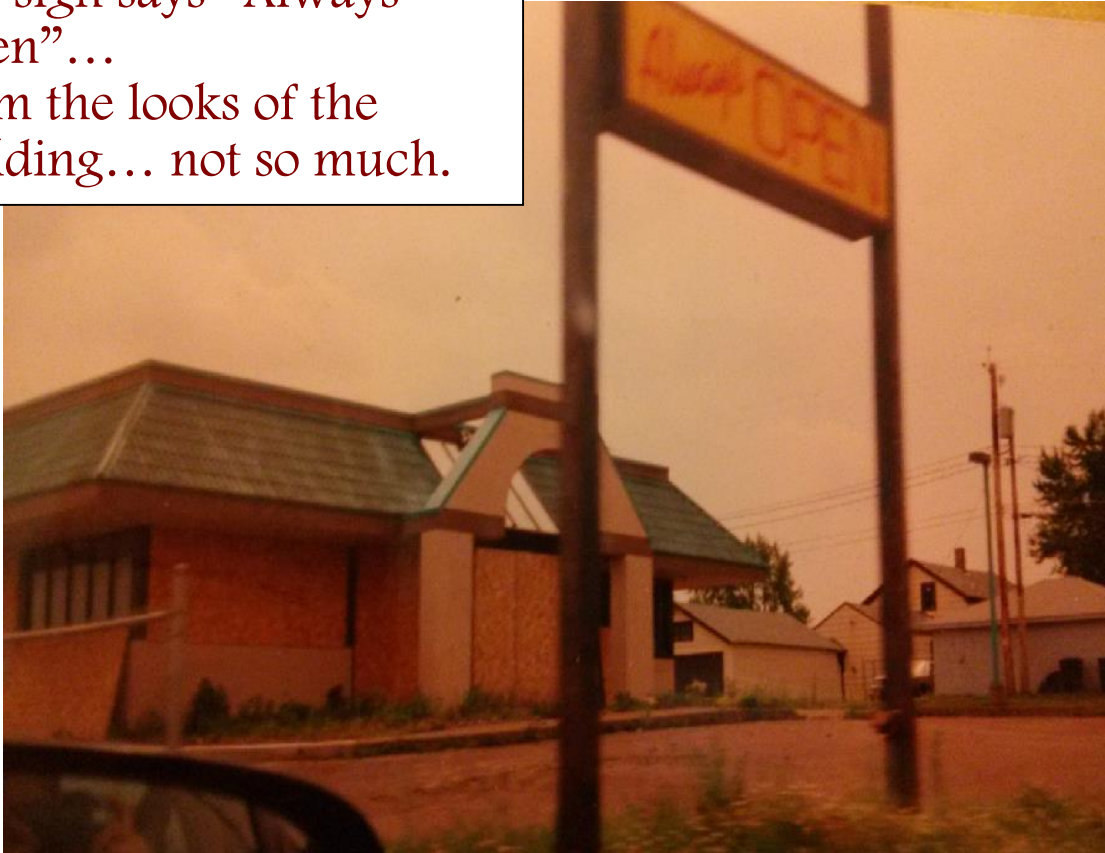

This sign can be found along Highway 64 near the coast. I'm glad they pointed out that the practice of feeding bears is unlawful – otherwise everyone would be doing it.

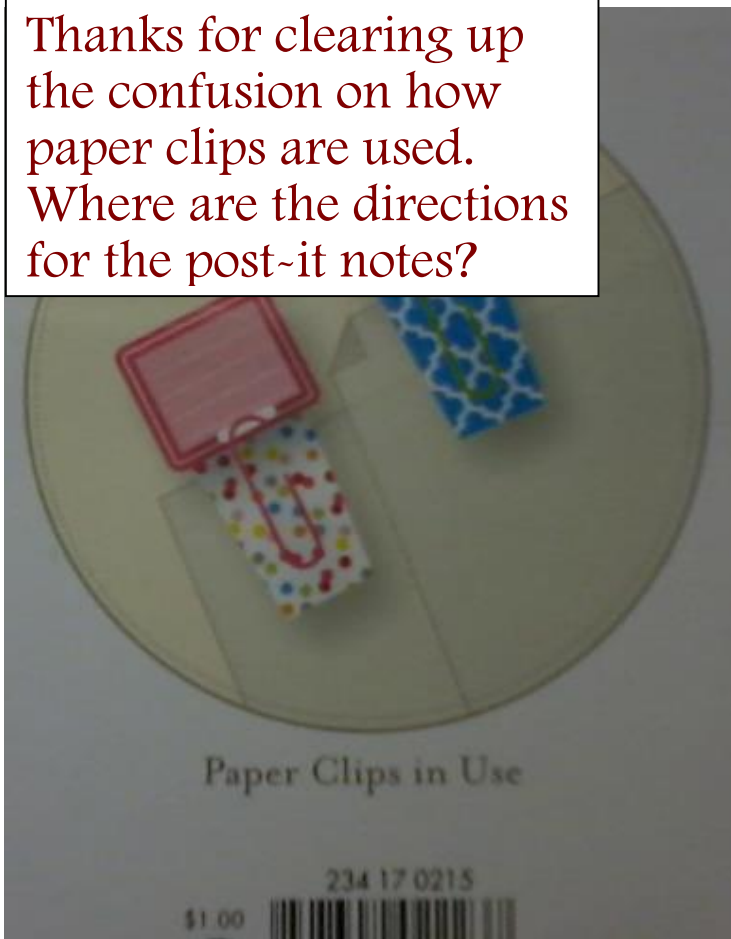

Just when you thought it wasn't possible...
CHARITABLE GAMBLING!

The sign says “Always Open”...
From the looks of the building... not so much.

Thanks for clearing up the confusion on how paper clips are used.
Where are the directions
for the post-it notes?

I have to be dressed up in order to use the restroom?!?!

Well, at least it's not a sign for Spelling Camp.

30 Back to School Service

Myers Park United Methodist

Church will host a back to school community-wide service. Senior Pastor James C. Howell said the church will pray for students, parents, teachers, school bored members, administrators and college professors as they prepare for another school year. The service will take place in the sanctuary.

Freudian slip?

Thank you Matt Janson & South Charlotte Weekly!

I hope you have enjoyed these few pictures.
Hopefully, there will be more to come!

Back to the Main Page